

High Functionality & Craft

Once a surface-mounted fixture, the UpMag is now converted into a multifunctional pendant and surface-mounted spot-light.

Featuring new additions to the suspended shield which protects the eye from glare, Schmidt Hammer Lassen's re-visioning of the fixture allows the lamp to be repositioned and focused in various ways, extending the technical functions of the light into new realms. This makes it suitable where directional spot-lights add value to a space, including classrooms, galleries, offices and foyers, and furthermore extends their applicability in hotels, restaurants, cafés and industrial refits.

The ballast of the lamp is as standard delivered with upcycled marble in the colours green or white.
